

“You Can Know His Comfort”

As a family you’ve known trials and sorrow before,
Others might say, can this family stand more?
But you know that with each trial that has come,
Your Lord walked with you and took your loved one home.
In our weakness, we find His strength and love,
So dear family rejoice and praise our Father above.
That He is gathering your family, and as we see them go,
This, too, we can face and His truth we can know.
In your weakness, you will find his strength and power,
And He will give you all you need to face each hour.
So just cling to Him and feed on his Book,
Psalm 34 is always a good place to look.
Read until your heart once again finds peace,
Until the unrest and troubled thoughts cease.
This, too, will pass and his peace once again you will know,
Once again life will be good and Satan the defeated foe.
So if you are a loved one and our Savior you don’t know,
Please accept Him as your Lord before you are called to go.
So make your plans to be with the family in their home up there,
Knowing you will see them again will make each loss easier to bear.

By Louise Hall