

“Tale of Two Frogs”

Listen my child, to the story of two frogs,
They started out in the world as mere pollywogs.
They grew and grew and soon learned to hop,
Like us humans they started at the bottom to reach the top.

One little frog we’ll call “Lazy Moe”,
Wherever others went, he was content to go.
The nearest water was in that pot upon the stove,
It seemed the easy way, so into the pot he dove.
It was so comfy in that pot, he decided to stay,
But someone turned on the burner one cold day.

Need I tell you what happened to Lazy Moe,
It really was not a pleasant way to go.

The other little frog we’ll call “Jumping Joe”,
And a more determined frog you’ll never know.

One day he jumped so high he fell into a milk filled churn,
And now my child, listen carefully and a lesson you will learn.
Jumping Joe paddled so hard and just kept trying to find some land,
Until that milk turned into butter and now he had a place to stand.

The story of these two little frogs you may have heard before,
But let their stories help you examine your life once more.

From these two little frogs a real lesson we can learn,
Don’t be content and go wherever the easy road may turn.
But take the high road and follow our Lord who leads the way,
Then one day when this life is over you will hear Him say.

“Come with me, my child, you’ve made the right choice,
Now let’s go home to a beautiful place and forever rejoice.

For there in Heaven, the streets are paved with gold,
So make Jesus Lord of your life, before you grow too old.

Written by Louise Hall,